

ERRATUM

[In Volume 7 (1984) of Selbyana (7: 359-360) illustrations from the paper entitled "A new species of Sarcoglottis (Orchidaceae) from Paraguay" by P. Burns-Balogh and M. S. Foster were inadvertently omitted. The editor regrets this error and the figures with legends are printed here.—The Editor]

FIGURES 1-3. Sarcoglottis tirolensis Burns-Balogh & M. S. Foster. 1. Inflorescence, ca. $\times 2$. 2. Flower with perianth removed (except labellum) showing anther (arrow) covering pollinarium, $\times 8$. 3. Pollinarium, $\times 14$.

FIGURES 4-6. Sarcoglottis tirolensis. 4. Plant growing in forest at El Tirol; light colored markings on leaves are lichens, $\times \frac{1}{3}$. 5. Lower portion of stigmatic lobes showing stylar canal entrance (arrow), ca. $\times 30$. 6. Septate pubescence on outer ovary wall, ca. $\times 30$.